Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

Regarding proposed regulation RIN 3038-AC61

I am a citizen of Canada,so governing how things are done in the states is your business.Unfortunately though when legislation is applied in the states it is often not long before it will applied in Canada . I enjoy trading forex and strongly feel the current levels of leverage are acceptable and should not be tampered with . If there is fraud in the forex market that you are attempting to curtail , please deal with those cases as they arise and do not penalize those who trade well within and according to the current set of laws and regulation.Those of us who take trading seriously and abide by the systems laws ,accept the risk/ reward that the the current leverages provide .WE QUITE FRANKLY ENJOY AND ARE WILLING TO TAKE THE RISK TO GET TO THE REWARD.
