Dear sirs;

I would like to register my objections to RIN 3038-AC61 to reduce the amount of leverage available in my Forex acct. This will just leave the little guy out again requiring more capital for the same gains. I understand the risk is substantial too but if I wanted less leverage my Broker would be happy to oblige in investing at a lower leverage rate. I am just a small investor but do realize the risks and it should be my choice as to the amount of risk I can tolerate. So in conclusion, Leave the system as is and let me decide whether I wish to invest this way.....Thank You.....Richard Greyn
