Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

Subject: RIN 3038-AC61 Regulation of Retail Forex.

To Whom It May Concern:

I got into Forex trading about four months ago and every vendor sight and training information I've seen starts out in the beginning part of their information of the importance of money management and warning how you can lose money very quickly if money management is not used. With this in mind I don't see any point in putting a maximum leverage for US retail forex to 10:1.
