Please don't pass a law regulating leverage in the forex markets. I make my living trading the forex and i depend on 400:1 leverage to earn enough money on my small account to take care of my wife and kids. Lowering the leverage will make it unable for me to trade profitably and it'll put me out of work and into unemployment. Please leave the leverage alone and please stop regulating this market. It's fine the way it is and necessary for even us small account holders to trade profitably and earn income. Thank you so much, Alan Piazza
