I am opposed to the rule change which reduces leverage. The main reason that currency trading is an attractive investment vehicle is because you don't need much money to start and you can trade with much less risk than with other investment vehicles. If you make any more changes, like this current one, you will all but destroy the currency trading business in The United States. You will destroy the advantages I stated above. The United States is supposed to be the leader in business and innovation, and your actions are destroying the reputation of the United States, not to mention the accounts and profits of US citizens, of which I am one.
