Subject: Regulations of Forex Retail

Good Day,

My name is Roy Burks. I'm a forex trader with GallantFX. I feel the proposal about 10:1 leverage is so unfair to the small trader. It will take the control out of our hands and make it almost impossible for us to make an income. Larger depositors will even have a difficult time and this isn't something you want to change in this time of our economy. I for one will go to another broker who isn't bound by this law which means less jobs and income for our country. I encourage the other changes and look forward to secure trading, but, don't get extreme.

Thank you,
Roy Burks
