commenter_subject: Regulation of Retail Forex commenter_frdate: March 22, 2010

commenter_comments: I am 70 years old, and I trade forex as a retailer.

I am totally dependant on this income with my limited capital.

I believe that the retail industry has developed over the last few years to create a substantial market.

If I am limited to 10% margins I will have to give up trading and become destitute. Please do not change the rules !

I believe that the retail markets help to create the correct value of currencies, and take the power away from the banks, who have created a tsunami on the world markets.
