Subject: Comments on Reduced Leverage Proposal

Respected Mr David:

Please do not take the essence out of the forex trading. I choose forex over other markets because of leverage. 10X leverage is a joke, 100X is sort of an industry standard so please let it be there. Let the free market work the way it is suppose to work. Let me choose my risk, I do not want others to take care of my risk.

This issue somewhat similar to gay marriages. So the gays says, let them choose what happens in their bedroom. I say let me choose what happens to my trading account.

Hopefully you will understand my concerns.

Regards,

Khalid Ghani
