

From: Mark Chambers <chorahtid@yahoo.com>
Sent: Tuesday, January 26, 2010 5:04 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

RIN 3038-AC61

Good day Secretary, I think the new proposed leverage changes aren't fair as they diminish the ability of the small retail trader who can open a micro account with as little as $100. Also bear in mind that brokers rules allow accounts to fall below a certain point before margin calls to protect the broker & customer as well from losing too much.