Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

I would like to add my voice to the many who believe it is our right as Americans to choose. Freedom of choice. The freedom of choice on the amount of leverage in our Forex trading accounts, is no acceptance. Each and everyone has the right to assume our own level of risk, a governmental censorship on capitalism, is not only infringing the concept of the "American Dream", but it contradicts the entirety of the statements directed at giving voice to the individual as well as the large institutions. By "going after" one, you obliterate the other.
