Subject: Regulation of retail forex

To whom it may concern RIN 3038-AC61

Our organization has been gathering potential evidence surrounding the proposal to limit Forex customer trading account's leverage while raising margin requirements to a $10,000 minimum, and take away the constitutional right for individual American citizens to have the same financial restrictions as corporations a days before lifting the century-long limit on corporate political campaigns and our law firm in New York has prepared a legitimate case to take before the supreme court of the people of the unites states of America if further decisions are made to silence the people's freedom of speech. Thank you for your time.
