I believe that all traders should have the right to choose the amount of leverage that is appropriate for his/her risk appetite, and that this basic principle of 'choice' is being threatened by the proposed CFTC regulations. I believe this is a tactic lobbied by the fat cats (big corporations) to force the small guys like myself out of the FOREX market so they can control it like they did earlier before small players got involved and disturbed their golden goose.

Please don't force me out of the market as the new proposal would require 10 times more cash than today and I would not be able to determine my own risks.

Thank you,
