

From: Oliver Hansen <oliver.hansen.muc@gmx.de>
Sent: Wednesday, February 3, 2010 7:33 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

---

Dear people of CFTC,

I wish to voice my opinion against the tightening of leverage for forex retail traders in the US.

1. The financial / credit crisis was not caused by retail traders.

2. At age 45 I do not wish to be nannied or saved from myself by collectivists and I believe regulators in general have become lopsided towards "safety" while overly restricting freedom and self-responsibility. I would sooner or later orientate my activities to more liberal jurisdictions.

Thank you for considering comments from the public.

Kind regards
Oliver Hansen
(account with FXDD LLC and other US brokers)