

From: dean@905live.com
Sent: Thursday, February 4, 2010 9:19 AM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

Please accept my comments against the proposed new rules. As a currency trader, the high leverage ratio is what makes currency day trading practical. The risk associated with high ratio leverage is fully disclosed frequently within my dealer's web interface and any other training media, and I don't feel additional protectionist regulations are required.