

From: THIEN LE <ltt.charity@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, February 9, 2010 11:46 AM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

As a retail trader, I am very disappointed with the intention to impose new regulations on the Forex U.S industry with a proposal of applying 10% margin requirement or 10:1 leverage. This proposal remind me about the command economy in an undeveloped country where regulators decide and want the economy runs in their bended directions. I can see the impact of the proposal shall be:

- a) a reverse to free market economy
- b) the finance market shall be died under commands

Though I was educated to start trading FX, with this proposal, I can never start my own invesment decision !

Suggested by: ltt.charity@gmail.com