Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

I strongly oppose a leverage cap of 10:1. Such a leverage cap will delay my retirement and force me out of trading retail forex for a living. Will you help me get a job in this economy? Hey, quit impacting the small guys and start regulating big institutions on Wall Street. If you would have done your jobs with more diligence, our predicament would have been lessened. This is exactly the type of knee jerk reaction we do not need. I vehemently oppose your proposed leverage changes.
