commenter_subject: CFTC Forex leverage proposal commenter_frdate: 1/18/10 commenter_comments: I am against lowering the leverage limit to 10:1. I have several live accounts with US brokers as well as brokers in the UK and Switzerland. If the leverage is lowered, I will close all US accounts and move funds offshore. I am sure that other traders will do the same. The net effect will be loss of jobs in the US as well as loss of income for the government from less taxes. This would certainly make the US look like wimps to the rest of the international financial world. It would also mean that the offshore accounts would not have the protection offered by the NFA.
