Dear Mr. Secretary:

Decreasing leverage for Forex trades from 100:1 to 10:1 and increasing margin requirement from $1000 to $10,000 for small accounts (less than $100,000) is fundamentally stupid and unconstitutional, because those will practically cut off the American People from Forex, which will be forbidden to them by you, and you will essentially tarnish American Liberty, what is unconstitutional.

Take your hands off the Forex accounts, which are less than $100,000.

Thanks,

Boris.
