This really makes me sad, I have been STRUGGLING to get my family out of debt and trading forex seems to be the only way I can do that with the lack of jobs in construction. I don't know what else to say besides PLEASE don't pass that. Because I am just ready to open a live account and it totally discourages me.. I don't understand why you'd want to make it so hard for the little guy to succeed.

Sincerely,
