Have only been trading Forex for a couple of years. Now, when I'm making a little income from my trading, help with the "pennies" here at home, the Gov't now wants to change the rules. I realize us "little guys" don't really exist to you big Gov't guys at all but, your rules changing has a way of destroying what we "nobodies" work so hard to create. Thanks for taking away what we've earned by changing the trading rules from 100:1 to 10:1. You've successfully managed to wipe out my account. Means I'll have to carry a balance I can not afford. Thank you for taking away our "extra". But, then again, like I said, what does that matter to you big Gov't guys. Us little "nobodies" to you don't even exists. So, I do realize my comments here will mean absolutely nothing.
