Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

RIN 3038-AC61

From: Svetlin Minev in Shumen, Shumen

You are supposed to regulate the forex market, not to kill it. Don't do what the Soviet dictator Stalin did many years ago. He thought that by eliminating the person will eliminate the problem. If you think that this is the right approach anyway, you can start with ECB. They are more responsible for the world economic problems than all of the speculators.
