

From: melaineco2@aol.com
Sent: Tuesday, January 19, 2010 4:03 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

RE: RIN 3038-AC61

As an Individual day trader of Forex I am opposed to the proposed leverage of 10:1. My main concern is for people like myself who don't have large capital, we would no longer be able to trade without the higher leverage. This would not impact high net worth clients or institutions because they already trade with lower leverage. The biggest impact would be traders who don't have the necessary capital and that is not fair we like to have choices and 10:1 doesn't give us much choice. So for the sake of the small guy please do not change leverage.

Thank You
Elaine Cordero
Orlando, Florida