Subject: Retail Forex regulation

I am writing to strongly disagree with the proposed 10 to 1 leverage proposal. This will be extremely damaging to the retail forex industry and will handicap retail traders who wish to enter the forex market.

If the margin requirements are reduced to 10 to 1 the result will be a move by most retail investors to accounts outside the United States.

I do, however, support your other proposals to regulate the forex industry.

Sincerely,

Bryan Heath
