Hello,

I challenge the thought process behind the current CFTC proposal for leverage restrictions in the Foreign Exchange Markets. America is a capitalist society, a free country where we have the right to make our own choices and the right to manage our own money. I do not need any further government oversight telling me how much I can and cannot risk in the markets, as I am investing my own money in line with my risk appetite and skill level. Any attempt to impose said restrictions will further inhibit the flow of capital into the U.S. and may in fact drive capital away from the U.S. Should the proposed legislation be enacted, I assure you I will be moving my funds outside the U.S, where I can manage my funds as I please. Thank you for allowing me to express my views on this times sensitive matter.

Best regards,
