From: Jorge Valdes <jvaldes305@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, January 19, 2010 7:08 PM
To: secretary @CFTC.gov>

Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

RIN 3038-AC61

So it's alright for Goldman Sachs to create a bubble in oil by selling futures to pension funds but retail investors should not be able to trade forex. The CFTC is a joke. They should call it the Goldman Sachs Commodities and Futures Trading Commission