

From: Brad Tobin <bradtobin@sbcglobal.net>
Sent: Tuesday, January 19, 2010 8:47 PM
To: secretary <secretary@CFTC.gov>
Subject: Regulation of Retail Forex

STOP MEDDLING, with the Forex rules, I am a novice trader still learning and the recent rule changes that have been made continue to make it harder and take away MY CHOICES, as a trader. I am fully capable of making my own choices on how, when, amount of leverage, and every other aspect of currency trading. The rules are quite clear already, I do not need to be protected, especially by the US Gov. Pull your head out of your ass and quite impeding the best market we have. I and every other trader takes full responsibility for our trades, good or bad. NO MOVE GOV. REGULATION!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Our Minds prepare us for success, I can succeed, But i must believe in my potential for success. I will ponder the positive possibilities today.