I guess leverage 100:1 is really sufficient for traders to work in this risky environment 'Forex' not 200;1 or 400;1 cause it is really ridiculous, it is like someone with his head in the clouds and his feet on the ground and for traders to work with 10:1 i guess that would eliminate many traders from working in the Forex and leave it for the big investors only which is i believe would be inappropriate to the idea of trading and the balance that comes from opposing decisions made by the masses.

intermediate Trader

thank u
