CFTC Comments

Dear CFTC Comments:

Wall Street's speculative trading in oil not only hurts the economy, but hurts every American who pays excessive prices at the pump, for groceries, home heating oil and everything related to transportation.

I encourage the CFTC to adopt the Proposed Federal Speculative Position Limits before volatile fuel prices further harm the country's already weakened economy.

There were hints in 2003 that the derivatives markets were going to cause problems. The sub-prime mortgage industry and other speculative back-room type processes can not be allowed to create another financial crisis.

Please have Congressional bills work across the board to create a regulatory environment that protects citizens, allows for commerce without risk.

Sincerely,

Sue Stewart
