Subject: Please do not Change Forex Trading Leverage

Dear Secretary,

I normally never get involved, but this time i need to. I am against any changes to forex trading rules concerning leverage.

People lose money trading forex not because of leverage but due to making losing trades, just like stocks, ect. When proper cash management of 2% of an account and stop looses are used, a person can trade successfully. This will only effect the everyday day person like Me.

I do not have $5,000 or $10,000 to put in an account. I Trade with Micro Lots & Changing Leverage will Only Hurt the Little Trader like MYSELF from Making Money in this Very Tough Recession.

By the way, profits on trading are TAXED!!!!, So the government will loose the capital gains paid on my profits, if i don't trade.

Please DO NOT make any Changes to LEVERAGE!!!!

Respectively,

Gavin Finlay.
