Subject: forex market leverage

I have been studying & training to trade in the forex market for 2 years now, & have achieved a level of proficiency that enables me to produce a good income stream to supplement, & eventually replace, my current income, which is barely adequate. I would appreciate it very much if you WOULD NOT change the leverage rates. This would make it much more difficult to produce income unless my account was much larger, which it isn't at this time. Thank you very much for leaving the rates unchanged. Sincerely, Sam W. Graves 1518 N. Warner Drive, Apache Junction, AZ. 85120 480-671-3776 samgraves1@msn.com
